Contesto helped implement OpenText Document Management, eDOCS Edition at Advokatfirmaet Selmer DA, one of the largest law firms in Norway. Contesto also added an enhanced security model that allows the configuration of access models directly to client matters. Contesto played an integral role in this implementation, and added a great deal value to the project.

In September, Contesto held its first Content Server Userforum in the Nordics for customers using OpenText Content Server. This event was a huge success, and Contesto will be holding it annually going forward. Contesto was named the OpenText eDOCS Partner of the Year in 2011, and also participates in Content Days and Enterprise World.

Over the years Contesto has steadily developed a presence for OpenText solutions in the Norwegian market. Today, Contesto supports approximately 80 customers on OpenText solutions, with a strong position across industries including: Oil and Gas, Legal and Energy. Contesto also develops modules and add-ons on top of OpenText products to comply with requirements from the Norwegian market. Contesto offers extensive services during project implementation including: installations, configurations, integrations, migrations, documentation, training and post-implementation support.
