

Customers behind OpenText Release 16

“The intuitive user interface with built-in collaboration in OpenText Content Suite 16 is just what our users have been waiting for! The enthusiasm our users have for this new release has translated into expedited buy-in from our management team.”

Erin Gendron, Manager, Information Management Solutions
Oxford Properties Group

“We are very excited about new functionality in OpenText Release 16. The new features will greatly enhance the user experience. OpenText Active Intelligence is taking days off of our supply chain cycle because we're able to connect with vendors to correct issues on ASNs before the truck even arrives at our yard.”

Marty Hahn, Vendor Relations Manager,
Dick's Sporting Goods

“The new role-based user interface in Content Suite 16 provides a rich user experience. It's going to make a major impact on user acceptance. Every Content Suite user will love this product!”

Praveen Nagarajan, Analyst
Phillips 66

“The futuristic vision of OpenText Release 16 is what I call being ahead of the game. This release will enable us to collaborate, secure and digitize our business processes.”

Sonia Diaz-Sotomayor, Senior Consultant, IT/IS
BELL CANADA

“OpenText Suite 16 and OpenText Cloud 16 are quantum leaps ahead of where we are now at 10.5. The look, feel, and functionality are more sophisticated, and we can't wait to get there. We will have hybrid options, and the release will allow users to create their own experience. This will be amazing!”

Angela Fares, Senior Manager, Records & Information Management
BNSF Railway

“We have a complicated disposition approval process. When speaking to OpenText product teams, it was fantastic to see our ideas incorporated into the new release. Content Suite 16 offers the ability to push disposition search results into collections, which allows people to work more effectively.”

Colleen MacNaughton, Corporate Content Management Team Lead
The City of Calgary

“DDR has been using OpenText Content Suite as a key infrastructure application for more than 10 years to manage the growing volumes of content and drive innovation. We look forward to implementing OpenText Content Suite 16 to take advantage of the new functionalities.”

Kim Scharf, Vice President of IT Enterprise Services
DDR Corp.

“Stage Stores' goal has been and will continue to be to provide our supplier partners with an easy, concise, and complete process/location to research their approved non-compliance violations. This 'switch trading partners' enhancement in OpenText Release 16 will only improve our suppliers' experience! Thanks for the continued support!”

Ken Lettre, Vice President of Compliance and Vendor Relations,
