

OpenText Learning Subscription

Unlimited access to the entire self-paced training catalog

Benefits

- Get 24x7 learning on your preferred device
- Grasp concepts faster via hands-on labs
- Prepare for and obtain OpenText certification
- Access multiple courses in a single purchase

It can be difficult to find the time and budget to attend multi-day, instructor-led courses to learn new software solutions or remain up to date on new products and version releases.

An OpenText Learning Subscription delivers all the training you need with the flexibility to learn when and where you want. OpenText customers, Partners, and practitioners learn concepts and practice using the software in a named-user, annual subscription format.

OpenText Learning Subscriptions are available in two formats:

- Standard Fully self-paced
- Premium (most value) Includes all self-paced training available in the Standard edition plus five days of instructor-led training in OpenText public classes and two additional certification exams so you can validate your skills

Standard

- Unlimited access to 180+ self-paced training courses
- Role-based learning paths to guide your learning journey
- Four 10-hour, hands-on lab sessions with options for extended time
- Two OpenText Certification exam attempts to validate your learning

The cost of a Standard subscription is equal to the cost of six days of public training!

Compared to traditional, scheduled instructor-led training, the OpenText Learning Subscription allows users to learn when and where they want.

95% of subscribers agree that the OpenText Learning Subscription resources are helpful to their role.

“Learning when you want is great! This is the way to go!”

OpenText customer

Premium

The Premium version of the OpenText Learning Subscription delivers the best value for the price. You are entitled to everything that’s in the Standard version plus:

- 5 days of instructor-led training in OpenText public classes.
- 2 additional certification exam attempts.

For new users, the best way to expedite learning and develop your skills is to attend a hands-on class led by a subject matter expert. The Premium subscription provides you with that foundational learning and allows you to continue self-directed learning anytime, anywhere.

Standard US $5,000

Named-user annual subscription

Self-paced

- Course materials
- Hands-on labs
- 2 certification exams

Premium (most value) US $7,500

Named-user annual
subscription

Blended solution

- Course materials
- Hands-on labs
- 4 certification exams
- 5 days of instructor-led public class training

Standard Security Edition & Premium Security Edition

In recognition of the unique training needs of digital forensic investigators, we offer learning subscriptions that are uniquely focused on our Digital Investigations and Forensics solutions.

Standard Security Edition provides access to self-paced training on the use of EnCase products and electronic examination best practices.

Premium Security Edition (most value): includes all self-paced resources from the Standard Edition plus access to classroom courses at OpenText training facilities in the US, UK, and Germany. Classes taught by EnCase Authorized Training Partners are not applicable.

All-you-can-learn accessibility

An OpenText Learning Subscription is the foundation for your continuous learning journey. It provides unlimited access to the self-paced training you need with the flexibility to learn when and where you want. A subscription model can help drive faster user adoption of new solutions and enable your team to stay up to date on new product features. It’s easy to reinforce learning as you re-visit reference examples when they apply to a task at hand. And, the dedicated OpenText content development team is consistently releasing new learning materials, which are made immediately available.

Resources

Learning subscriptions ›

Learning paths ›

Certifications ›

For more information, contact
OpenText Learning Services at training@opentext.com

Prepare for certification success

OpenText certifications are developed to suit organizational and individual goals based on the role the user plays with the OpenText product. OpenText learning paths take the guesswork out of finding courses and certifications that are right for your role. You can identify which courses best prepare you for the relevant OpenText certification exam. Take advantage of the two (Standard) or four (Premium) certification exam attempts included in your learning subscription. It's an excellent way to have your learning achievements recognized by OpenText and your industry peers.

Certified experts assure better business outcomes. OpenText certifications provide an objective measurement of technical and solution proficiency to:

- Validate skill sets based on product role.
- Increase optimal usage and adoption of OpenText solutions.
- Increase confidence in your OpenText skills.
- Reduce knowledge-based "how to" support calls.
- Develop a worldwide community of highly skilled certified OpenText professionals.

Build skills, improve performance and level up

With options to fit every learning style, OpenText Learning Subscriptions make training accessible with just one click. Subscribe and start learning today!