

OpenText Learning On Demand Subscription

Get extensive, web-based access to OpenText learning resources across most product suites

Get 24x7 learning on your preferred device

Explore OpenText products and functionality

Prepare for and obtain OpenText certification

Access 350+ courses, 75+ video courses and 50+ learning paths

It can be difficult for users to find the time and budget to attend multi-day, instructor-led courses to learn new software solutions, as well as remain up-to-date on new product and version releases.

The OpenText Learning On Demand Subscription provides extensive access to OpenText learning resources across most product suites. It helps OpenText customers and partners learn concepts and best practices with training course materials and learning paths in a named-user, annual subscription format.

Subscribers receive:

- Extensive training materials for hundreds of courses across OpenText product suites
- Suggested learning paths geared to specific roles, such as power users, system administrators, developers, etc.
- Two 20-hour sessions over a four-week period, with options for extended lab time
- Self-paced eLearning for OpenText™ AppWorks™, Content Suite and OpenText™ Documentum™
- One OpenText Certification exam attempt for users to validate their learning and achievement

All of this content is provided for the cost of a single course.

Compared to traditional, scheduled instructor-led training, Learning On Demand Subscription allows users to learn when and where they want.

95% of subscribers agree that the Learning On Demand Subscription resources are helpful to their role.

“Learning when you want is great! This is the way to go!”
