Take advantage of maximum flexibility in scheduling and course selection

OpenText gives you the option to purchase five or more seats for your organization at a reduced rate, allowing personnel in different roles and departments to maintain the broad-based, dynamic skill set needed for today's digital investigations.

You have complete flexibility in how your organization distributes its seats. Students can choose any format of training, including EnCase Training OnDemand, EnCase vClass or any combination with publicly offered OpenText classroom courses, including but not limited to Pasadena, CA (Los Angeles), Dulles, VA (Washington, DC) and Reading, UK (London).

Investigators and IT professionals stay current with EnCase software

The Flex Pack ensures that organizations can keep investigators and security professionals current in their EnCase knowledge and increase skill levels while accommodating unexpected personnel changes and unpredictable schedules. Get up to speed on new products and take advantage of continuously updated curriculum plus new and advanced courses.

Receive a substantial discount in course fees

Purchase five or more seats at a rate of US $2,225 per seat and save up to $1,125 per course. Take up to 18 months to use your seats in the way that best meets your needs.

Flexible delivery methods: EnCase vClass and EnCase Training OnDemand

Save more by eliminating travel costs and experience our live instructor-led classes from your home or office through EnCase vClass or receive training from anywhere in the world at your convenience with Training OnDemand.
