Integrate content management capabilities—on premise or in the cloud

By integrating matter management with eDOCS, legal teams and their project stakeholders can manage, personalize, and automate working document environments whether working via mobile devices, remotely, or in the office. With one-click, users can set-up, search, open and archive documents and work seamlessly with centralized information.

Find the most current case information quickly

With a unified view into the most current work product, case and client information stored in integrated content and matter management systems, legal teams and other stakeholders can quickly find their matter-related content. Matter management integration for eDOCS is customized to customer needs and designed to automatically synchronize matter and matter-related data into eDOCS using a Windows Service application. Legal teams can also take advantage of eDOCS advanced search technology—including full-text, Boolean, hybrid metadata and content queries—to easily narrow the results with search term highlighting, document summarization and faceted filters.

Protect documents with synchronized security permissions

Legal practitioners have access to confidential and sensitive legal information ranging from PII and privileged documents to communications regarding contract negotiations. When disparate systems house sensitive and confidential documents, along with different security permissions, conflicts of interest may arise or sensitive data may inadvertently be exposed. To protect these communications from unauthorized viewing, integration between eDOCS and matter management systems automatically synchronizes security permissions applied during the matter lifecycle, automatically applying these permissions into eDOCS minimizing the risk of exposing sensitive data.

Eliminate repetitive matter intake tasks and focus on strategic work

Integration between eDOCS and matter management systems eliminates human efforts related to repetitive matter intake tasks. After metadata is captured and stored in the matter management system, eDOCS automatically applies the stored information helping users, cross-functional teams, and internal clients focus on their strategic work.

Matter Management Integration Service for OpenText™ eDOCS is designed to support the specific needs of law firms, corporate legal departments, and other professional services organizations. eDOCS ensures that sensitive work product is managed and secured throughout the content lifecycle. Matter management systems manage the entire matter lifecycle from billing and attorney profiles to calendars. When integrated, they deliver a powerful, unified system that provides complete visibility into your entire legal landscape while streamlining productivity and operations.
